

“As our focus changes from STEM (science, technology, engineering, & mathematics) to STEAM (science, technology, engineering, arts, & mathematics), this creatively written compendium is timely. The chapters offer clinically relevant, theoretically guided, and scientifically-based perspectives on integrating the arts and health to ensure quality and cost-effective healthcare for the whole person.

“Clinicians, clinicians-in-training, and individuals with a full array of medical problems will benefit from gaining a greater appreciation of the myriad ways in which the visual and performing arts can be used to nurture the soul, foster healing from trauma, and support coping with/overcoming medical problems.”

Nadine J. Kaslow, Ph.D., ABPP
2014 President, American Psychological Association

“Whole Person Healthcare is a glimpse into the future of healing. It is a magnificent effort, bringing together authorities who have made landmark contributions in fashioning a form of healthcare that honors all we are—body, mind, spirit. These volumes demand our attention, because no other approach to healing ourselves deserves to be called scientific or humane.”

Larry Dossey, M.D.
Author of The Extraordinary Healing Power of Ordinary Things

WHOLE PERSON HEALTHCARE
VOLUME 3: THE ARTS AND HEALTH

~ Table of Contents ~

Foreword	Dean Ornish, MD
Preface	David Spiegel, MD
Applications of Art to Health	John Graham-Pole, MD
History of the Arts and Health across Cultures	Jill Sonke-Henderson, BA
The Development of the Contemporary International Arts in Healthcare Field	Rusti Brandman, PhD
The Hospital Artist in Residence Programs: Narratives in Healing	Jill Sonke-Henderson, BA & Rusti Brandman, PhD
The Science of Creativity and Health	Jeffrey E. Evans, PhD
Theory and Practices of Art Therapies: Whole Person Integrative Approaches to Healthcare	Ilene A. Serlin, PhD, ADTR
Dance/Movement Therapy for the Whole Person	Sherry W. Goodill, PhD, ADTR, NCC, LPC & Dianne Dulicai, PhD, ADTR
Drama Therapy: Past, Present, and Future	Robert J. Landy, PhD, RDT/BCT, LCAT
Poetry Therapy: Reclamation of Deep Language	John Fox, CPT
Spirituality, Hope, and Music Therapy in Palliative Care	David Aldridge, PhD
Expressive Dance, Writing, Trauma, and Health: When Words Have a Body	Anne M. Krantz, PhD, ADR & James W Pennebaker, PhD
Art Therapy and the Soul	Shaun McNiff, PhD, ATR
Using the Arts to Work with Stress and Trauma In the Israeli Context	Vivien Marcow Spieser, PhD, ADTR, LMHC & Phillip Speiser, PhD, RDT, LMHC
More than Words: Bringing the Arts	Paul M. Camic, PhD

WHOLE PERSON HEALTHCARE
VOLUME 3: THE ARTS AND HEALTH
 EDITED BY ILENE A. SERLIN, PH.D., BC-DMT
 $24.00
 PUBLISHED BY UNION STREET HEALTH ASSOCIATES PRESS
WWW.UNION-STREET-HEALTH-ASSOCIATES.COM

